1. Paul the Apostle wrote the book of Philippians to, well, the Philippians. Why do you think he said to rejoice twice in Philippians 4:4 – “Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice.”?
2. It’s understandable why we should rejoice when life is going well. But why do you think we should rejoice always, even when things don’t seem to be going well?
3. What are things we always have that give us reason to rejoice in the Lord? (Salvation from our sins, hope in God, we can always talk to God, etc.)
4. How can we rejoice this week, even when life seems out of control?
5. What was one thing the Laura Sage story taught you about joy?
